HELLO!

Did you see the stork go by?
He left me here at North Hills Medical Center in North Richland Hills, Texas on May 22 at 5:00 pm.

So I've come to announce my arrival....

My name is Kelsey Mae and I weighed 6 pounds 1/2 ounces. That was sure a whole bunch for my mommy. I'm already so big, 19 inches long.

My mommy and daddy's names are Jackie and Dale Springer. I think I like them already. They look like me. And I have a big brother. His name is Kyle.

And Kyle told me that I'm going to have some super grandparents; Bill and Phyllis Rozzi and Bill and June Springer. And a whole bunch of great grandparents and aunts and uncles.

Gee this aught to be a fun life.

See you soon!

WEATHER CONDITIONS FAVORABLE TO CROPS

Large Yield for Year Indicated; Little Danger Now of Damaging Frost

Weather conditions in northern Indiana today will be about the same as they were Tuesday, it instilled Wednesday, probably showers was the forecast issued last evening from the Fort Wayne station of the weather bureau.

Storms which centered last night west of the Mississippi river were moving eastward slowly, and this condition was the basis of the forecast issued from the Fort Wayne station.

The high mark of the temperature in Fort Wayne Tuesday afternoon was 76 degrees, with a low mark of 50 for the day registered at 8 o'clock last night.

Showers during the past week have been a great help to fruit garden vegetables and farm products of all kinds prospects are excellent for large yields in all kinds of crops in northern Indiana this year. A late spring frost would cause much damage now, but it is believed there is little likelihood of a damaging frost at this late date. The latest killing frost on record in Fort Wayne since the local station of the United States weather bureau was established was on April 27, 1919. Light frosts have occurred in this locality on later dates, but no great damage resulted.

For the 24 hours ending at o'clock last evening the total precipitation in Fort Wayne was 1.3 an inch.

Many Rewards Offered Contestants in Club Work at Indiana's Great Show

INDIANAPOLIS, May 25.—Prizes totaling $6,812.50, together with many scholarships and trips will be offered to the boys and girls of the state in such contests as calf pig, lamb, poultry, corn, potato, sewing, canning and baking clubs and judging contests at the state fair at Indianapolis, September 4-11. All club work will be judged Saturday, September 6 the opening day of the fair, and there will be several hundred boys and girls showing in these club contests on that date.

Parents should take an active interest in seeing that their children enter these clubs. INDUSTRIAL RAILROAD NE

JOHN REYNOLDS NAMED HEAD OF RAILROAD "Y"

Hiram Philley Retires as President of Branch of Local Association

John Reynolds, chief clerk to the storekeeper of the Pennsylvania railroad, was last night installed as the new president of the committee of management of the railroad branch of the local Y. M. C. A. Mr. Reynolds succeeds Hiram Philley, who had held that position for a number of years.

Other officers elected last night at the annual meeting of the railroad branch are: Vice-President, J. L. Craig, freight agent of the Wabash railroad; secretary, O. H. Adams, passenger agent of the Indiana Service corporation, and treasurer, G. F. Becker, clerk to the agent of the American Express Co. A. Taylor, chief clerk at the Pennsylvania, and Chester Bradley, of the Wabash, were named as new members of the board.

L. A. Schwan, general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. presided at the installation of the newly elected president, in the absence of D. W. McMillen, president of the "Y," who had been called out of the city. Mr. Schwan called attention to the fact that Mr. Philley has been a member of the board of management of the railroad Y. M. C. A. since 1888 and that during these 37 years he has served the railroad branch in practically every office of this department. Mr. Schwan emphasized the responsibilities of the newly elected president in its program of character building, which the "Y" is promoting. The local branch is only one unit of a large world-wide organization functioning in 46 different countries. Each of these associations, he said, has the same purpose of helping young men develop character, Mr. Schwan declared.

The annual report of the railroad branch showed that under the direction of G. B. Brittenham, executive secretary of this department, a large program was carried on during the past year. Evenness in the activities of this department have been the noon shop meetings held in the various railroad shops.

Mr. Philley in retiring from the presidency of the local railroad branch, stated that during the many years of his affiliation with the Y. M. C. A. he has seen the work of this organization grow and become more firmly established in the city. It was upon his own request that Mr. Philley was allowed to resign the presidency. He will, however, continue to serve as a member of the board of management.

FORD WINDERS DEFEAT

WEATHER CONDITIONS FAVORABLE TO CROPS

Large Yield for Year Indicated; Little Danger Now of Damaging Frost

Weather conditions in northern Indiana today will be about the same as they were Tuesday, Wednesday, probably showers, was the forecast handed out last evening from the Fort Wayne station of the weather bureau.

Storms which centered last night west of the Mississippi river were moving eastward slowly, and this condition was the basis of the forecast issued from the Fort Wayne station.

The high mark of the temperature in Fort Wayne Tuesday afternoon was 76 degrees, with a low mark of 49 for the day registered at 5 o'clock last night.

Showers during the past week have been a great help to fruit, garden vegetation and farm products of all kinds. Prospects are excellent for large yields of all kinds of crops in northern Indiana this year. A late frost, great enough to cause much damage, is not to be feared, but it is believed there is small likelihood of a damaging frost this late in the date. The latest killing frost ever recorded in Fort Wayne since the local station of the United States weather bureau was established was on April 27, 1919. Light frosts have occurred in this locality on later dates, but no great damage resulted.

For the 24 hours ending at o'clock last evening the total precipitation in Fort Wayne was .13 of an inch.

STATE FAIR TO OFFER PRIZES TO BOYS, GIRLS

Many Rewards Offered Contestants in Club Work at Indiana's Great Show

INDIANAPOLIS, May 25.—Prizes totaling $4,817.50, together with many scholarships and trips will be offered to the boys and girls of the state in such contests as calf, pig, lamb, poultry, corn, potato, sewing, canning and baking clubs and judging contests at the state fair at Indianapolis, September 4-11. The time is here when boys and girls have great opportunities to win valuable cash prizes or educational trips by joining these clubs through their county agents. All club work will be judged Saturday, September 4, the opening day of the fair, and there will be several hundred boys and girls entering in these club contests on that date.

Parents should take an active interest in seeing that their children enter these clubs. The trip to the Indiana state fair to compare their exhibits with the other boys and girls of the state will be very educational. Even if they do not win any prizes they will have the opportunity of seeing the exhibits and to visit with the boys and girls who are successful in winning the high prizes. It will make them more determined to try again for the following year. Anyone may secure a booklet on this club work by asking his county agent for one or writing E. J. Barker, secretary, room 224, statehouse, Indianapolis.

INDUSTRIAL RAILROAD NEWS

JOHN REYNOLDS NAMED HEAD OF RAILROAD "Y"

Hiram Philley Retires as President of Branch of Local Association

John Reynolds, chief clerk to the storekeeper of the Pennsylvania railroad, was last night installed as the new president of the committee of management of the railroad branch of the local Y. M. C. A. Mr. Reynolds succeeds Hiram Philley, who had held that position for a number of years.

Other officers elected last night at the annual meeting of the railroad branch are: Vice-President, J. L. Craig, freight agent of the Wabash railroad; secretary, O. H. Adams, passenger agent of the Indiana Service corporation, and treasurer, O. F. Becker, clerk to the agent of the American Express C. A. Taylor, chief clerk at the Pennsylvania, and Chester Bradley, of the Wabash, were named as new members of the board.

L. A. Schwan, general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. presided at the installation of the newly elected president, in the absence of D. W. Mc-Millen, president of the "Y," who had been called out of the city. Mr. Schwan called attention to the fact that Mr. Philley has been a member of the board of management of the railroad Y. M. C. A. since 1889 and that during these 37 years he has served the railroad branch in practically every office of this department. Mr. Schwan emphasized the responsibilities of the newly elected president in the program of character building which the "Y" is promoting. The local branch is only one unit of a large world wide organization functioning in 40 different countries. Each of these associations, however, has the common purpose of helping young men develop character, Mr. Schwan declared.

The annual report of the railroad branch showed that under the direction of G. R. Hitchcham, executive secretary of this department, a large program was carried on during the past year. Foremost in the activities of this department have been the noon shop meetings held in the various railroad shops.

Mr. Philley, in retiring from the presidency of the local railroad branch, stated that during the many years of his affiliation with the Y. M. C. A. he has seen the work of this organization grow and become more firmly established in the city. It was upon his own request that Mr. Philley was allowed to resign the presidency. He will, however, continue to serve as a member of the board of management.

WABASH TO TAKE OVER UNION RAILWAY JUNE 1

Will Be Third Company to Operate Belt Line Established Year Ago

Operation of the Fort Wayne Union railway will be taken over by the Wabash railroad at 12:01 a. m. Tuesday, June 1, it was announced Wednesday. This will be in accordance with the plan devised at the time the belt line was first put into use when it was decided that each of three railroads should share its operation.

The Pennsylvania railroad is at present operating the belt. They took over control of it December 1, 1925, after the Nickel Plate railroad, which was the first to operate it, had run it for six months.

Installation of the Fort Wayne Union railway was carried on jointly by four railroads passing through this city, the Pennsylvania, Wabash, Nickel Plate and New York Central.

The belt line connects all four railroads and was built with a view toward facilitating incoming and outgoing shipments of factories located in the industrial district in the eastern part of the city. It serves particularly the International Harvester company, which averaged shipments of approximately 40 cars a month during the past six months.

The railroad which operates the belt line furnishes an engine to make one or two trips daily over the route. While in charge of operating it the railroad must also take care of the maintenance of way.

O. G. Sandberg, superintendent of the Peru division of the Wabash and Lester High, trainmaster, both of Peru, Joseph L. Craig, local freight agent here and J. L. Guggerty, yardmaster here, made an inspection tour of the belt line yesterday.

Husband: George (Leonard) SPRINGER Yr of birth 1824
Wife : Maria Sibylle KRAUTER Yr of birth 1831

HUSBAND - George (Leonard) SPRINGER

George Leonard Springer first came to America on August 24, 1848, on the ship named Bark Francis. It was a sailing ship. He came by himself to check out the country for his two brothers and one sister.

George left Germany at the port of Bremen and arrived in America at the port of New York. Note the Statue of Liberty was built in 1886. None of our pioneer ancestors saw the Statue of Liberty when they came to America. The second time George came to America was on September 13, 1852, on the ship Brem Barque Juno. It was a sailing ship also.

The newer ships back then were a combination sailing ship and steamship. If our pioneer ancestors sailed on a newer ship I would have included the picture in the book. There are not too many pictures of sailing ships taken back then.

The second time George came to America was from the port of Bremen to the port of New York. This time he came over with his wife and brother George Michael Springer and his fiance'. Both brothers first name is George and the two brothers married sisters. Their both first names is Maria (Krauter). George the oldest brother went by his middle name Leonard to keep the confusion down. Also on the ship the Krauter sisters younger brother, George Krauter came with them.

They all lived in Orange County, New York as tenant farmers. I have been to Orange County, New York. It is around 50 miles from New York City and has beautiful black soil and big valleys and low mountains. Today and the same as when our ancestors worked in the fields they grew vegetables, mostly onion fields. I was there in June of 1991, just after a nice rain the onion fields had a real nice smell. When I say our ancestors were tenant farmers in New York, what I mean is they and many other newlyweds or young couples stayed together in big farm houses, and worked for a very big farmer. After one year and seven months they saved enough money for the canal boat ride to Ft. Wayne, IN, then they bought some land in Pleasant Twp., Allen Co., IN.

George Leonard Springer, at his log cabin, which was located on the Yoder Rd., Pleasant Twp., Allen Co., IN, had the meeting to start St. Mark's Lutheran Church in 1854. St. Mark's Lutheran Church is the home church for the Springers. The Springer settlement was located west of St. Mark's Lutheran Church. Most of the land is still in the family today!

When our pioneer ancestors died, by that I mean the three Springer brothers and their one sister and their spouses, all were born in what we call Germany today. The very old obituaries in the paper call people who were born in another country, and were farmers, and cleared the land of forests and dug ditches and planted fields, pioneers, or old settlers. This is what our ancestors did.

He had been ill but three weeks, an ulcer on his right knee developing into blood poisoning. The funeral services will be held at Sheldon, now called Yoder, IN, tomorrow afternoon."
